

The Christian community in my area relies on K-Love for their inspiration, encouragement when we are down and the place we tune in to when we want to be strengthened in our faith. Others are free to listen to whatever they want and we should have the freedom to listen to this Christian station.